Joe Bigknife says he has been on many a wolf hunt, but never saw lam's hunt wolves till the last raid on the Baxter joints.

Our grapevine dispatches from the territory always give the latest news and in most every instance may be considered reliable.

If you cannot attend the whole of the reunion, send 15 cents and have the Daily Reunion News mailed to you every morning.

A man may wear a white apron as a token of innocence, but it won't go in Baxter Springs, either with the flap turned up or the flap turned down.

The late festival given by the ladies of the M. E. church was not a "dismal failure" as stated last week—at least financially. The proceeds were $24.60.

Geo. P. Hill, late of Baxter Springs, but more recently of Columbus, came down Thursday with his landlord and spent the day among his friends and family.

J. M. Cooper, who has recently returned from Oklahoma, reports the crops not only in Oklahoma, but all along the line, as simply magnificent.

W. A. Braman, the great lumber dealer of Neutral, spent Tuesday and Wednesday in Baxter Springs figuring on some big bills of building material.

Calls have already been made by outside G. A. R. posts for over 250 tents for the reunion. It looks as if the boys were not only coming, but expected to stay all the week.

Star Courier: The county attorney says that those who bring him information of violators of the prohibitory law refuse, in nearly every case, to make oath to the information.

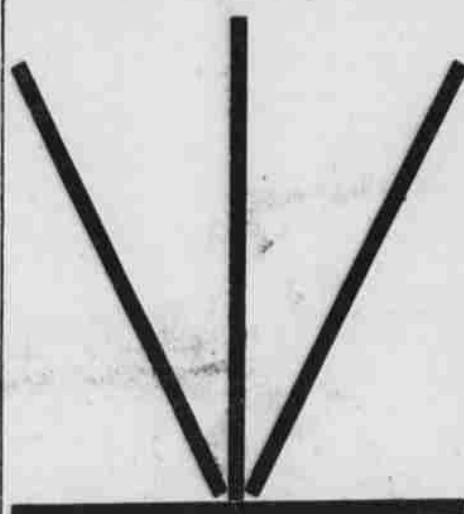

Star Courier: The county commissioners met on Monday to allow a number of accounts, and to appropriate $1,999 to aid in building a bridge across Spring river at Needle's ford.

Wm. Lumley of Neosho township was killed on Monday last by his saddle horse falling on him. Mr. Lumley was a well known stock raiser and dealer living near the village of Melrose.

The Seneca, Mo., brass band has been engaged to play for the reunion, so that there will be three bands besides the drum corps to enliven the occasion. The Seneca band has 18 regular players.

Columbus Advocate: S. O. McDowell and A. P. Riddle will, about August 1st, commence the publication of a daily paper at Pittsburg. To the projectors of the new enterprise we wish unlimited success.

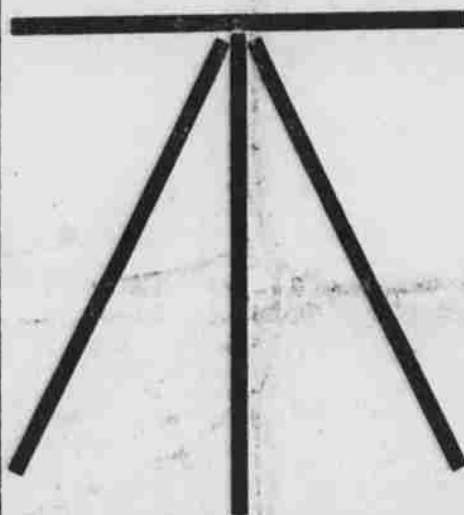

Rev. James T. Cooter, formerly of this city, has been chosen president of Washington College, Tennessee, by unanimous vote of the board of trustees. He is considering the acceptance of the call, which was an unexpected one.

McELHINEY & SON'S
Baxter Springs.

CATCHES 'EM
EVERY TIME.

Prof. Noble and family were happily surprised the past week by the sudden appearance of Miss Laura Treat from Denver, Col. Many of our citizens well remember this accomplished lady, who for several years was a member of the professor's family. She left Baxter Springs for Colorado three years ago for her health. She will remain a few weeks in Baxter and then go to Chicago, where she will remain until the first of September, then return to Denver.

Mr. Kane, the jeweler, brought in some tall stalks of corn from the farm of A. Huff. He says 14 foot stalks are common and that it is so heavy it has crushed all the hedge fences out of sight and broken into the hog lot. He declares that an unacclimatized New York Yankee would be scared out of his boots to see that corn grow—and the weeds too.

The cannon to be used at the reunion is a large brass Napoleon gun captured from the rebels at Pea Ridge by Col. Boyd of Springfield, Mo. It can be seen in front of Bob. McGregor's store in a few days.

To Palace Swing Men.

Bids will be received up to the 10th of August for the exclusive swing privilege at the Baxter reunion Aug. 24 to 29. J. P. HARTLEY, Supt.

A MAN

gets awful dry during the dog days and enjoys a cool summer drink, but parties who have gone to neighboring towns just for the sake of a drink have that they have made a mistake. Baldwin, of Baxter, not only sells goods so much cheaper than anyone else, but he always pays the highest price for produce, and when you compare his live new stock of goods with the

and mouldy stocks offered you in some other towns and places you are sorry you did not buy your goods of Baldwin and send to Joplin for the other stuff.

AT

the One Price Cash House you can buy more goods for the money than at any other place in Cherokee county, and for every dollar's worth of goods purchased, you get a chance in the Gold Watch drawing, which takes place Sept. 1, at
